

Michael Simony, D.D.S.

The best measure of a dentist isn't just the quality work that professional provides, but the comfort level patients have with their dentist. It's a very personal relationship, and peace of mind goes a long way toward ensuring high levels of patient satisfaction.

That's exactly what Dr. Michael Simony, D.D.S., offers his patients. The high level of service Dr. Simony provides is truly a team effort, from the initial scheduling of the appointment and the friendly reminder as that date approaches, to the warm greetings and care patients will receive when they visit the office.

Dr. Simony offers the latest in dental technology and procedures, but what sets him apart are the little things. He and his staff display a positive attitude and truly demonstrate that they care for their patients — who, over time, also become friends.

Any and all questions are answered about dental care. The warm, inviting environment is a major reason why Dr. Simony's patients are so loyal and willing to recommend his services to their families and friends.
